CWLP HOME EFFICIENCY WORKSHOP SCHEDULED

The CWLP Energy Services Office is hosting its last Low-Cost/No-Cost Efficiency Workshop of the year on Wednesday, November 9th from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at the downtown branch of Lincoln Library, on the corner of Seventh Street and Capitol Avenue. The free 90-minute workshop, which focuses on home energy efficiency improvements that can be made for little or no cost, provides residential electric customers with a crash course in how to become efficiency do-it-yourselfers. The program is open free of charge to all CWLP residential electric customers, but space is limited and pre-registration is required.

Workshop participants will receive instruction and hands-on experience installing a variety of weatherization products, including caulk, weatherstripping and flexible interior storm windows. Participants will also receive a free take-home "starter kit" of several of the products discussed in the workshop. This program can be especially beneficial to customers living on low or fixed incomes who are having difficulty covering their home energy costs and who can't afford to hire someone to make necessary efficiency improvements to their homes.

To pre-register for a workshop, call the CWLP Energy Services Office at 789-2070 or email nrgxperts@cwlp.com.

The CWLP Energy Services Office also offers Low-Cost/No-cost Efficiency Workshops "on-demand" to interested churches, neighborhood associations, and other community and civic groups who expect a minimum attendance of at least 15. In most cases, the workshops can be set up at the convenience of the requesting organization.
